Gaviota: Innovation and Outdoor Design

Founded in 1986, Gaviota was created with the aim of designing outdoor solutions that combine design, technology and long-lasting performance. Over the years, the group has grown to become an international benchmark in the sector of awnings, pergolas and panoramic glazing systems, thanks to an approach that places innovation and reliability at its core.

Our identity is built on a strong commitment to environmental and social sustainability, fully integrated into our production processes and strategic choices. Every product is the result of continuous research into material quality, system efficiency and functional performance. This catalogue reflects the outcome of steady growth, driven by the desire to offer our partners and customers increasingly advanced, high-performing and responsible solutions. With Gaviota, technology and nature find a new balance, creating outdoor spaces that are more comfortable, safe and harmonious.
